

Holmes Travel has been providing quality business travel services to a wide range of corporate customers for over 30 years. Experience has taught us that in order to make these partnerships a success we must be innovative, dynamic and flexible.

Our Approach

We understand that every client is unique. That you will all have different policies; priorities and individual needs. By having a flexible approach we ensure that we tailor travel management solutions to match your exact requirements.

We are confident in suggesting alternative routes, stopovers or airline combinations in order to find competitive solutions, but without compromising the reliability or accuracy of the service, which we understand is of vital importance to the business traveller. This proactive and innovative approach to corporate travel is key to what sets Holmes Travel apart.

Developing a strong working relationship is very important and we are proud of the high level of customer service we provide. As well as servicing your corporate travel requirements, Holmes Travel can help with your leisure travel bookings. Our knowledgeable and well travelled staff will be able to offer advice and personal recommendation wherever you might like to go.

Working Together

A dedicated member of staff is assigned to each account and they will personally handle all aspects of your travel needs. Our account managers have extensive corporate agency skills and pride themselves on finding the most cost effective travel solutions for their clients.

We believe in forming lasting partnerships with our clients so that as companies grow or emphasis within the business shifts, we are best placed to understand these changes and to offer solutions that are relevant.
