

Greene & Greene is a long established firm of solicitors based in Bury St Edmunds, Suffolk and is recognised by independent legal directories as one of the best law firms in East Anglia.

The firm advises individuals and businesses based all over the UK and has been growing steadily year on year since the 1990s. Many clients, who were previously using firms in London, have transferred their business to Greene & Greene after realising the improved cost efficiency and personal service on offer. Many existing clients have remained loyal to the firm over several decades, which is testament to the quality of legal advice and service that the firm provides.

Greene & Greene comprises of a number of very experienced lawyers, many of whom have worked for much larger firms, before moving to Bury St Edmunds to enjoy an improved quality of life. This experience pays dividends with its lawyers being able to advise on a wide range of legal matters. Independent legal directories recommend the firm in each of the key areas in which it specialises.

The quality of legal service on offer has led to existing clients and professional colleagues recommending Greene & Greene and as a result the firm's client base now extends across the UK and beyond.
