

Demand for Colchester retail space picks up

Written by editor

Friday, 12 November 2010 10:14 - Last Updated Friday, 26 November 2010 12:07

---

Colchester is seeing a revival of demand for retail space. Christopher Ware of agent Whybrow said: "We are experiencing an increase in retail requirements from both local and national occupiers which are seeing many of our town centre properties let or under offer. Varying reports have been released on town centre occupation but as an agent in the town we are certainly seeing good levels of demand..."

Whybrow Chartered Surveyors has recently let 131a High Street, Colchester; a prominent retail space of around 560 sq.ft. which has been let on a new full repairing and insuring lease for a term of fifteen years.